THE MOST COMMON QUESTIONS & THE BEST ANSWERS

Q: I was with my ex for 3 weeks, can i get my ex back?

A: If you end up spending more time to get your ex back then the time you were with your ex you will want to consider moving on. You could of been a fling or you could have been the rebound person from the last relationship your ex was in.

If your relationship did not last at least a month then your best to move on and take it as a learning experience. Its not worth your time or your ex's time to try and rebuild a relationship that was not really built in the first place.

Q: What is a Fling?

A: A short period of unrestrained pursuit of one's wishes or desires. If someone is with someone because they need to be and then gets ride of them when they do not need them anymore. The person that is no longer need is the Fling.

Q: What is a rebound relationship?

A: It is a temporary relationship that takes place after a break up. If the rebound relationship ends up lasting longer then the relationship before it then it is no longer a rebound relationship. When your ex's rebound relationship is longer then your relationship it will make it harder to get your ex back. This is when you need to make a decision to wait and be supportive or let it be and move on.

Q: If my ex is dating some one else can i still get my ex back?

A: Yes. Over 90% of rebound relationships do not work. It is still considered a rebound relationship if you have been with your ex longer then the new person your ex is with.

Q: Why rebound relationship fail most of the time?

A: The reason why they fail is because your ex is still thinking about you and there new partner is trying to get them to stop thinking of you. This causes both people in the relationship to not focus on the relationship causing it to fall apart.

Q: Why do i need to leave my ex alone for a month?

A: After the break up takes place the person that ended the relationship is in the RESENTMENT STAGE and the other person is in the PANIC STAGE. You and your ex will not to be able to move forward until the both of you are out of the stages that take place after a break up.

Q: What if i have to see my ex or talk to her or him right after the break up on a daily basis. I have to see my ex because we work together, have kids together, go to school together, and are going through a divorce.

A: If you have to see your ex on a daily basis do not completely ignore them. That is not going to help and it will create more problems. When you do see each other "Because You Have To" only talk about the subject at hand. If you are seeing each other because you have a kid together for example. Only talk about the kid and nothing else. Keep the conversation as short as possible and stay on topic.

Q:Should i ignore my ex's phone calls and text messages during the break period?

A: No you should not completely ignore your ex's phone calls or text messages if THEY are trying to contact you then you need to respond to them. When you do respond to your ex only talk for 1-3 minutes then put them off. If you put your ex off it will build up there anticipation and it will make them think of you while they are waiting for your phone call. This puts you in CONTROL of the break up.

Q:If my ex calls me what do i say and do.

A: When your ex calls you or text you. Then you need to respond. If you can just send a text and say "I got your message, I would love to talk to you but i am very busy, I will get back to you later." If your ex calls you and you talk to them on the phone only talk for about 1-3 minutes and say "Hi, nice to hear from you, how are you doing, nice to hear that, well i got to go because i am very busy, I'll call you next week." You need to keep putting your ex off until you have had a month break.

Q: Should i send Text Messages, Emails, Facebook, Myspace, and Online Chat messages during a break up?

A: No Never! Unless i tell you.

Q: Why is Texting and Online Chatting BAD during a break up?

A: Any kind of communication that is not face to face is not good communication. The best communication is face to face or at least by phone. If you can see and hear the person that is talking to you then the message you are getting will come across how it is supposed to. Texting and chatting online does not deliver a clear message at all. It is VERY important that the messages that you and your ex give each other during the break up are as clear as possible. You can not afford to have a misunderstand during the break up because of a stupid text or online message. If your ex takes your message offensively or the wrong way it could ruin your chances of getting back together for good.

Q: Should i tell my ex that i am sorry after the break up and beg for forgiveness?

A: If you try and talk to your ex before your ex is over the break up then your ex will not hear or listen to anything you have to say. Your ex will keep telling you the same things they told you when they broke up with you. Every time you try and say your sorry its just going to remind your ex of the break up and push your ex further away.

Q: When can i tell my ex i am sorry?

A: You will not tell your ex that you are sorry. One of the worst things you can do is remind your ex of the break up. The only time you will ever say anything about it is if your ex wants to know and you can only tell them after at least 2 months have taken place since the break up. If your ex wants to know then you just give a brief apology and that is it. After your apology let your ex know that you have moved on.

Q: If my ex wants to talk to me about the break up before we are both over it or right after the break up. What do i say?

A: You want to say. "I know you may have some unresolved feelings, I know, But right now is not the time to talk about it, Lets talk about it sometime in the future, Lets just try to have fun right now and enjoy our selves."
Make sure you sound sympathetic when you say this.

Q: What do i do if my ex was seeing someone when we were together or is seeing someone right after the break up?

A: You have to be supportive. If you show your ex that it does not bother you and you can be a friend your ex will be willing to talk to you while they are dating. If the rebound does not work then your ex will tell you about it. This will then give you a opportunity to get back with your ex if it does not work out.

Q: If i am in a long distance relationship does that make it harder for me to get back my ex back?

A: No it does not make it harder to get your ex back. The only thing that changes is that you have to be more CREATIVE. An example would be since you cant see your ex you could get a web cam. If you are in a long distance relationship you are going to have to go see your ex eventually.

Q: IfWhat if my ex forgets about me while i am doing the no contact rule/limited contact?

A: Thats what you want to happen. Your ex will be willing to give you another chance when they forget about the old you and the break up. Then once your ex forgets you will be able to break the pattern and make a new first impression on your ex.

Q: If i can not see or take my ex out because of a long distances relationship what do i do?

A: The best thing you can do is set up a webcam. Then if that goes good you are going to have to go see your ex if you really do want to get back together.

Q: Is no contact going to make my ex forget about me and move on?

A: No your ex will not forget about you. If you contact your ex before your ex gets a chance to forget about the break up then you have to start the break over. If you wait another 2-3 months after the 1 month of no contact then your ex could end up moving on.

Q: I got my ex back but the thing is, my ex barely calls me to hang out, it's always me asking my ex, hey can you hang out. My ex never texts me or gives me a call. There seems to be no interest from my ex but my ex claims to love me. What do I do?

A: If you get back together and this happens you need to back off. It is a sign of your partner needing their space. Your partner knows that you want to see and talk to them. If you keep reminding your partner when they already know it is just going to piss them off. Let them call you when they feel like it.

Q: What does "I Need My space" mean?

A: This is one of the signs that there is about to be a break up. Your partner will say this when they feel like they CANT BREATHE! What happens is you tell your partner all the time how you feel, you hang out with your partner every day, and you constantly question your partner. What happens is you are DROWNING your partner with emotions and questions. This is when your partner says "I Need My Space." This is a clear sign that you need to put yourself in check and back off and give them space before they take you out of their space for good.

Q: What to do if you left your ex and your ex begged for 2 months but now does not want you back after you try to get them back?

A: Your ex does not want you back because they feel that you played a game with them. If your ex begs to get you back for 2 months and then you all of a sudden ask your ex back after your ex is done begging it will make your ex feel like you made them beg for nothing when you could of just taken them back right away. Instead you made them beg and now they feel stupid. When this happens you are going to have to give your ex even more time to get over the self embarrassment that they feel from begging. This would be a great time to send "The Second Chance Letter." This letter will make your ex get over the self embarrassment and they will most likely call you after they read it.

Q: I had sex with my ex and know my ex acts cold what do i do?

A: If you kiss your ex and have sex with your ex before you get back together it will give them no reason to get back with you. Your ex is not going to show any love for the sex because your not together and it does not mean anything. You have to take away kissing and the sex and make your ex want to get back with you. The more reasons you can give your ex to be with you the more your ex will want to be with you.

Q: If my ex wants me to kiss or have sex with them what do i say without pissing them off.

A: If your ex attempts to kiss you or have sex with you do not just turn them down. You do not want to say "No kissing or sex till we get back together." If you say it like that it sounds manipulative and it sounds like you are forcing them to commit. This may turn them off completely and you do not want to do that. You want to say "I am done with casual sex." If you say it like that it adds more value to you and your partner does not feel like there is something wrong with them. It may even make your ex commit because they want to kiss you and have sex with you.

Q: My ex tells me that he or she still loves me but they want to explore?

A: This is o.k. it is just a phase your ex is going through. They could be testing you or they could just want to see if you are really the one for them. As long as you do not question their motives and be supportive your ex will come back after this phase has passed.

Q: How do i know if i can still get my ex back?

A: If your ex shows any emotion it is a good sign. If they show they still hate you it's a good sign. As long as your ex shows some kind of emotion for you then you can get your ex back. If your ex shows completely no emotion or no interest after you see each other again after the no contact period then it is a good sign to move on.

Q: Why does my ex talk to other people about me.

A: If your ex is talking to other people about you then they obviously still care. People only tell people about stuff when it interests them or they care about it. So if your ex is going out of their way to talk about you then they are still thinking of you and they may still really care about you. If your ex is doing this it could also mean that they are not over the break up yet. So you will want to give them another 2-4 weeks to completely get over the break up.

Q: Why did my ex boyfriend, girlfriend, husband, or wife leave me?

A: In most cases a man will leave a women because he does not feel admired and a women will leave a man because she does not feel appreciated. This is a very complex question and it needs to be thoroughly answered. I will be telling you why your ex left in my free training course "Getting Love and Keeping It."

Q: How can i make my ex miss me and return my phone calls.

A: The only way any one ever missing anything is if it is taken away from them. Once your ex no longer hears from you or has access to you then they will begin to miss you. Its not till you leave them alone will your ex start thinking about you

Q: My ex will never return my phone calls or voicemails?

A: If your ex is not returning your phone calls then your ex is still not over the break up and you are calling them back to soon. When you leave a voice mail do not beg and bleed. You have to use self interest and curiosity. Say "Hey this is (), i want to thank you for something, give me a call back so i can thank you in person." This will make your ex want to return your phone call.

Q: What do i do if we have the same friends and see each other at a party?

A: Do not avoid your friends because you are not back together. Your ex will notice this and feel like you are not over them or you really dont like. If you see your ex while you are hanging out just act normal. Its ok to say high to your ex but if your ex wants to get into a conversation just say your really busy and you will talk to them later. You want to have some contact so you can show you are OVER the break up, show that you are willing to talk, and at the same time show that you do not need them back.

Q: Should i date other people if my ex is dating?

A: YES! You should be dating someone else once a week any way. This will help you get over your ex, give you other options, and give you practice with the opposite sex so when you do see your ex you will have had some practice before you see them. It also makes you appear more valuable if your ex knows you have other options besides them.

Q: How can The Magic Of Making Up by TW Jackson help everyone if all break ups are different? How can it help everyone when the people, times, places, and situations are all different.

A: All break ups go through the same process. Yes all the people, places, times, and situations are different. Though's variables do not matter because it does not matter who you are, were your from, or what your situations is. All break ups go through the same process and the same stages. Break ups are very predictable when something does or does not happen. If you do not know what to do during this process and if you do not understand this process the chances of you getting your ex back are very small. TW Jackson walks you through the entire process that all break ups go through. That is why The Magic Of Making Up system can work for anyone.

Q: If i get The Magic Of Making Up what are the chances of me getting my ex back if i follow the system step by step.

A: With out the system the chance of you getting your ex back would be around 20%-40% because you do not understand the process and what to do during a break up. If you study and follow TW Jackson's system your chances would be around 60%-90% because you will know exactly what to do during a break up and you will understand the process of a break up. In order for your chances to be that high you have to "Study and Follow The System Step by Step!" You have to work the system and study it in order to have the best chance to get your ex back.

Q: If i follow and study The Magic Of Making Up and i do not get my ex back because my ex is not ready to get back together then what do i do?

A: In order for this system to work you have to "Follow and Study the system!" You are not going to get your ex back by just buying it. You have to follow the system and do everything TW Jackson tells you to do in order for it to work.

If you do not get your ex back you should at least be friends with your. If you "Follow and Study the System" you should at least be friends with your ex if you do not get them back. If your friends with your ex that means your ex may not be ready to get back together yet and that leaves the lines of communications open. By being friends you still will have a chance to get your back.

Q: Is The Magic Of Making Up a good investment for anyone?

A: Yes! The Magic Of Making Up is a great investment for anyone. Everyone will experience a break up some time in there life time. They will go through a break up or they will know someone that is going through a break up. After you study this system you will know exactly how to survive and stop a break up. So if you ever go through a break up or you know someone that is. You will know exactly what to do so you can save your relationship or help someone you know.

Q: Can i get my money back if i buy The Magic Of Making Up?

A: If it does not end up working out in the end you can always get your money back. If you get The Magic Of Making Up System you can get all your money back without anyone asking you any questions. Even if the system still works you can get your money back if you feel like you have to. You have 2 months to use the system and if you feel like you want your money back you can get a refund but since over 6,000 people were happy i cant see you wanting to get a refund.

Q: What if everything i do just keeps pushing my ex further away?

A: This means you are trying to contact them or do things with them too soon. You are appling pressure to your ex and this is pushing your ex away. You can not force things with your ex, everything has to be very gradual. If you feel like you are pushing them away then you need to slow down and give them some space.

Any More Questions?

If you have any questions that i did not answer that you have i would appreciate it if you would send me a e-mail and let me know so i can give you the answers and so i can up date this book for the next person that reads it.

I hope i answered all of your questions. These are the questions that i get every day. I thought it would be a great help to you if i just answered them right now.

Even though i have answered a lot of your questions you still may feel completely lost, that is ok. Dealing with a break up all by your self can be one of the most challenging things you will ever go through in your entire life.

I know what its like to be dealing with a break up all by your self. No one cares about it and everyone else is just telling you to move on with your life. The truth is, its not that easy and its very hard to figure out what you need to do when the person you thought you were going to spend the rest of your life with has decided to break your heart!

You want your ex back more then anything else right now, I know how you feel. I know the next thing you want the most is for someone to listen to you and give you some good advice. Someone to tell you what you are doing right, someone to tell you what you are doing wrong, and most importantly to have someone tell you what you need to do to take control of this break up and save your relationship before its to late.

If you want someone to help you get over your break up, if you want someone to help you understand why your ex left you, if you want to know how much time you have left to save your relationship, if you want to talk to someone that has been through a devastating break up, if you want to talk to someone that has been able to save there relationship then i am willing to be that person

Listen, I am willing to help you survive this break up, and show you how to make your ex come crawling back to you for just $1. We can set up a coaching session right now! We can chat "live on a webcam" and i will not charge you anything. Well i will charge you $1 but that is nothing compared to $150 an hour from other relationship coaches!
